

Reviewing Remediated Concepts

During Adaptive Practice, when a student struggles, ScootPad automatically offers the student questions and instructional lessons in prerequisite concepts in order to fill knowledge gaps. This is a teacher time saver! Below we detail how to unpack the Learning Path to review the prerequisite concepts which have been remediated and the Mastery Score calculation.

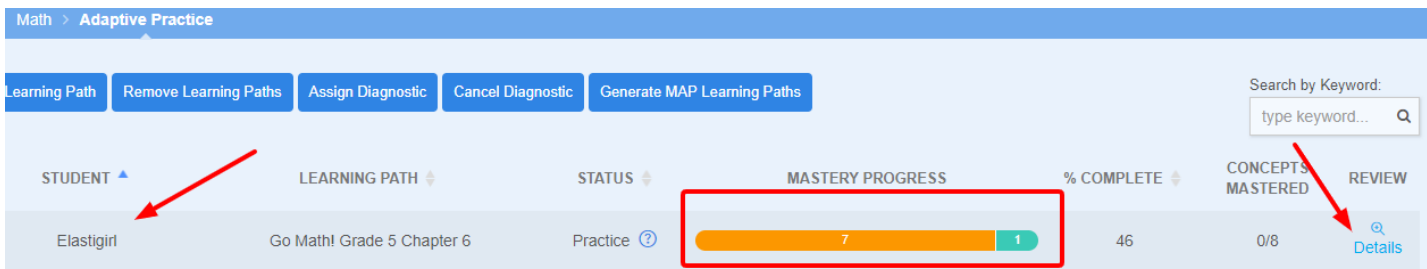

1. Launch your classroom

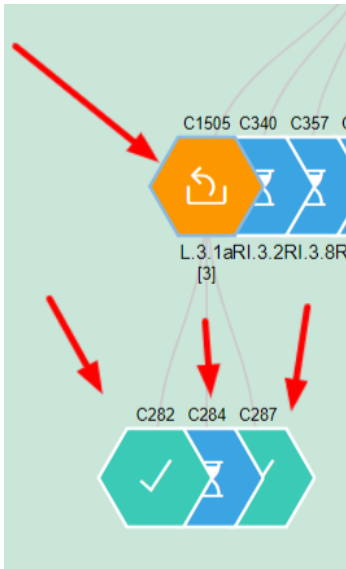

2. From the classroom Navigation Bar click on Features and then under Math or ELA click on Adaptive Practice:

3. Students who are currently receiving automatic remediation will have at least 1 "orange" concept which has been scaffolded down to prerequisites. Locate the student. Select "details" to view the student's Learning Path. TIP: If a student doesn't have any orange concepts, check their Learning Path anyway to see which skill gaps were filled!

4. Review the scaffolded (orange) and prerequisite concepts.

5. Click on Mastery Score tab to view the Mastery Score in each concept. In this view, you can also see the concept hierarchy.

Use collective nouns

Our Mastery Score is calculated based on the decaying average method (65% weight). Decaying Average is a formula that places more weight on recently scored problems and also on the number of attempts, allowing for a better measure of growth by rewarding students for how far they've come without punishing them for where they started. Review the mastery score shown below for each problem.
